BIO

The Misdemeanors is a young all female indie-pop band from Fayetteville, Arkansas. Lead singer Jessi Morrison, guitarist Milcah Hulen-Posnak, keyboardist Breanna McArdle, bassist Erin Funkhouser, and drummer Roen Voorheis have been together since September of 2021. The Misdemeanors' sound is an arrangement of indie, pop, rock and roll, and sometimes a little punk.

All of the members had attempted to join and start bands many times, but no one in high school was serious enough. Jessi approached longtime friends Erin and Milcah in the fall of 2021. Soon after they recruited Roen and Breanna. In mere weeks they began performing live all around Fayetteville.

Now, The Misdemeanors are much more than just a high school band. The Misdemeanors is a queer female-fronted community of hundreds of supporters revolving around more than twenty musicians and singers making up multiple band configurations.
